Community Center Proponents Launch Campaign for Ideas

Backers of the proposed Canyon community center this week began a campaign to find out exactly what the residents of the city want in the center.

Dr. Dudley Moore, Jr., will carry the ball in meeting with every civic organization in the city to get members' views on the proposed building.

In all, Dr. Moore expects to visit between 25 and 30 clubs and organizations in Canyon—with the hopes that out of it will come concrete plans for the center.

Tentative Plan Ready

Already off the drawing board is a tentative plan, but officers of the community center planning council emphasize that the plan is "strictly tentative."

Recently-elected officers of the planning council are Mike Morris, president; Riley Troth, vice president; Jean Loudder, secretary, and Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick, treasurer.

Officers felt that there must be some starting point for the center. They contacted erectors of prefabricated buildings to get their ideas for a building.

Drawn by Architect

The plan which the group is using as a starting point was drawn by an architect employed by Panhandle Steel Buildings in Amarillo.

Site of the community center would be Conner Park, where it is proposed that the city swimming pool be enclosed. The tentative plan is patterned after the youth center at Plainview.

Not A Youth Center

However, officers of the planning council stress that a youth center is not what they are advocating.

The Hereford Community Center contains 9,000 square feet and cost approximately $109,000. Mrs. J. D. Barker, who reported on a visit to the Hereford center, stated in her report that the Hereford plant is "truly a community center" and is being used by all age groups.

In her report on a visit to the Plainview youth center, Mrs. Mona Hildreth stated that the center was completely self supporting.

Worth $85,000

"The original structure (in Plainview) cost $27,000 . . . and $20,000 for the filter (for the swimming pool). The engineer that checked the filter system recently estimated it would cost $85,000 to replace the building and filter system," Mrs. Hildreth's report stated.

The Canyon officers feel it would be more economical to enclose the city's swimming pool and provide halls for the various activities than it would be to start with nothing. And one of the main reasons the Plainview center is self sustaining is because of the revenue raised by the swimming pool.

The group here has received the green light from the city commission to proceed with plans to enclose the swimming pool and construct the building.

The commission made it plain, however, that the city could go no further in supporting the proposed center because of the city's precarious financial position.

For Adult Recreation

Included in the tentative plans which Dr. Moore will present to the various service and civic organizations in the city is a hand ball court, a small meeting room which would seat 120 persons, a large meeting area which would seat 250 persons, and lounges for men and women.

In addition there would be a kitchen, a foyer, and an office for the director.

The officers stated that the center would be used for adult recreation and adult functions. However, it also would be available for youth activities.

Clubs Support Project

Financial support for the community center is coming from the city's civic organizations, and several already have pledged sizeable donations for its construction. Additional funds have been raised through the Christmas dinner sponsored by the Crusaders Class of the Methodist Church, the Christmas Card fund, and various Junior Chamber of Commerce projects.

One problem now facing the council is whether or not to hire a director for the center to aid Dr. Moore as he visits civic organizations to get the club members' ideas on what should be included in the center.

One thought is that the director could actually save the residents of Canyon money by including only the necessary equipment and space in the center, while another group feels that a director should not be employed until after the center is completed.

Must Have Director

Both factions agree, however, that a director should be employed to coordinate and plan the functions of the center.

The idea of a community center dates back to the 1956-57 school year when the officers of the Parent-Teacher Association decided that the city did not have adequate facilities to sponsor a large party each year.

The officers have changed, but the group has worked steadily.

Hall Too Small

First plan advocated was the remodeling of the American Legion Hall, Third Avenue at 16th Street, but it was discovered that the hall would not be large enough. The plans drawn for the remodeling called for some $15,000 worth of work to be done on the building.

Enclosing the swimming pool at Conner Park has been the only plan advocated which has drawn support.

Officers of the planning council, however, have said they will listen to any plan which any club, organization, or individual has for the center.

Mothers March Set Tomorrow

Mothers of Randall County are joining two million women across the nation in a march for facts and funds for the new March of Dimes.

The Mothers' March will take place in this county tomorrow night from 7 to 8, according to Mrs. A. C. Haley, Jr., Mother's March chairman.

Canyon has been divided into sections for the porch-light, door-to-door campaign. Section chairmen have been appointed, and they in turn have appointed block chairmen.

The mothers will be assisted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary and the Canyon Home Demonstration Club.

Leave Porch Lights On

Residents are asked to leave their porch lights on if they wish to make donations.

Section chairmen are Mrs. Johnnie McBroom, Mrs. Marion Williams, Mrs. Keith Poole, Mrs. Carl Eugene Hair, Mrs. Jack Barnard, Mrs. W. B. Davis, Mrs. Lawrence Hunnicutt, Mrs. Phil Swatzell, and Mrs. K. E. Hines.

"The Night of January 16," a play presented by the senior class of Canyon High School to benefit the March of Dimes, raised approximately $100, according to Duane Howard, county chairman.

"I want to thank Mrs. Lee Foster and her senior play cast for the time and effort put in on this effort to help us in our fund drives. Public spirit like this is appreciated," Howard said.

Seek Information, Contribution

"In our campaign tomorrow, we will be asking for information and a contribution," Mrs. Haley said. "Both are needed for the National Foundation's fight against birth defects, arthritis, and polio—three cripplers that affect one of every four American families."

In addition to collecting contributions, the mothers will use a copy of "Door Count," a concise fact-finding folder in which a family may indicate if any of its members has a birth defect, arthritis, or polio, and how many have had three or more Salk vaccine shots. Each family record will be confidential.

Medical School Accepts Miller

David Miller of Canyon has been accepted by the Southwestern Medical School of Dallas.

He is a graduate of Canyon High School.

Meeting of Little League Set in Court House Feb. 4

A crucial meeting of all persons interested in continuing the Little League baseball program has been called for February 4 by Dr. R. P. Jarrett, league president.

If enough interest is not shown, Canyon will not have a Little League next summer, Dr. Jarrett said. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p. m. in the commissioners courtroom in the Randall County courthouse.

Politics Simmer as Deadline For Office Filing Draws Near

The political pot in Randall County is on the stove this week but the stew hasn't reached the boiling point as the deadline for filing with the chairman of the County Executive Committee for the Democratic primary on May 7 nears.

Would-be candidates have just five days left to get their names on the May 7 ballots for county, state, and national offices.

Deadline is midnight Monday, February 1, David Matthis, chairman of the executive committee, said.

The list of candidates who have filed in Randall County, released Tuesday by Matthis, reveals that only two county offices, two state positions, and one national job are contested.

6 in Commissioner's Race

On the county level, the precinct 1 commissioner's job and the county tax assessor-collector's office have more than one candidate for office.

Incumbent B. E. "Bailie" McCormick has drawn five opponents for the commissioner's job. Precinct 1 now includes the eastern half of South Amarillo and a small portion of Canyon.

Seeking the job, in addition to McCormick, are J. E. McAvoy, Jr., D. W. "Jack" Flippin, Don L. McGregor, B. R. Jones, and Raymond Wineinger. All are from Amarillo.

Funston vs. Money

A former deputy of incumbent Bill Money has filed against Money for the tax assessor-collector's office.

Paul Funston, former chief tax deputy at the South Amarillo annex of the tax collector's office, entered the race against Money. Both Money and Funston are residents of Canyon.

In other offices to be voted on in May, the incumbents—who have all filed for reelection—are unopposed.

Only three days remain for voters to buy their poll taxes so they may participate in the general and presidential elections this year.

Bill Money, tax assessor and collector, has announced his office will remain open until 5:30 p. m. Saturday for persons who wish to pay their poll taxes.

Money is hoping for a total of 12,500 registered voters in this county.

Glenn Dowlen, commissioner of precinct 3, which includes the southeastern portion of Canyon, has not drawn an opponent.

W. A. "Bill" Wilson, justice of the peace for precinct 3, is unopposed for office, as is L. S. "Slim" Johnston, county sheriff.

On the state scene, Evetts Haley, Jr., of Canyon has entered the race against incumbent Ted Springer for state representative of the 94th Flotorial District.

Lee Has Not Filed

Gen. William L. "Jerry" Lee also has announced for the office, but has not filed in Randall County, Matthis said.

Only other opposed state office is for chief justice of the Court of Civil Appeals for the 7th Judicial District. Jesse Owens has entered the race against James G. Denton, who was appointed to the office last year.

Grady Hazlewood has not drawn an opponent in the race for state senator of the 31st District.

Walter Rogers, incumbent U. S. Senator from the 18th Congressional District of Texas, has squared off against Arthur Glover of Amarillo for that post.

City Jobs Open

Meanwhile, the mayor and two commissioners for the City of Canyon have announced they will not seek reelection in April.

Bowing out of office are mayor Charles Donnell and commissioners John Taylor and Lowell Harrison.

No candidates have filed for those offices yet.

Commissioners Hike Officials' Salaries

Raises ranging from $270 to $800 a year for elected county officials were read into the minutes Monday by Randall County commissioners.

The action followed a six-hour secret session in South Amarillo last Tuesday, in which the commissioners reportedly discussed salaries.

The greatest raises, $800, went to justices of the peace for precincts 1 and 4. Their salaries were raised from $4,000 to $4,800.

Commissioners granted themselves the smallest raises. They boosted their salaries to $4,100, from $3,830. However, they increased their travel allowance from $50 to $75 per month.

Other Salary Boosts

Other salary boosts include: The county judge, $450 raise from $4,050 to $4,500; county treasurer, $363, from $4,537 to $4,900; county clerk, $530, to $6,250 from $5,720; tax assessor and collector, $530, from $5,720 to $6,250.

District clerk, $663, to $5,200 from $4,537; sheriff, $700, from $6,050 to $6,750, the maximum salary for any county official except criminal district attorney; and criminal district attorney, $500, from $7,000 to $7,500, maximum salary for that office.

The commissioners specified the district attorney's salary of $7,500 was to include $500 which the state pays as its share of the criminal district attorney's salary. District Attorney A. W. Lair said last week he had not received the state's portion of his salary since he was appointed in 1955.

State Fees Included

The commissioners also specifically included $240 a year from the State of Texas in the salary of Bill Money, tax assessor and collector. Money receives the money from the state for handling automobile titles.

Last week Money had asked for $120 a year in back salary for the past eight years. Like Lair, he claimed the county had received his fees from the state but he had not received them from the county.

The tax assessor and collector is to receive not less than $10 nor more than $20 a month for handling the titles.

The salary of Rhea Smith, county service officer, was set at $1,200 a year. Randall County cooperates with Potter and Armstrong Counties in paying Smith.

Paving Bids Asked

Bids were asked for five and a fraction miles of paving to extend Farm-To-Market Road 7714 south. Bids will be opened February 22.

A delegation appeared to ask about paving plans for the Hollywood Road between the Amarillo Expressway and Washington St. The group, composed of W. H. Dwight, Frank P. Ponce, Ed Roberts, Joe Wells, and Harvey Schmidt, is interested in the development of Tanglewood Estates, just off Washington on Hollywood Road.

Precinct 1 Commissioner B. E. McCormick said he planned to come east from the Amarillo Expressway as far as the railroad tracks and then turn the road over to the Texas Highway Department, who would finish it at a later date.

McCormick said he had the right-of-way from the expressway to the railroad.

Crain Farmhouse Burns to Ground

The Newton Crain farmhouse, located nine miles southeast of Canyon, burned to the ground early Wednesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Slay, daughter and son-in-law of the Crains who lived in the five-room bungalow, were in Canyon at the time of the fire.

Crain saw the walls of the house cave in early this morning as he neared the house to milk the cows at his dairy, Mrs. Crain said.

Origin of the fire is unknown, but indications are that it was caused by an explosion. Mrs. Crain said windows in the back part of the house were blown out and curtains were found a short distance away from the home.

The water heater, located in the basement, is electric, Mrs. Crain said.

Mr. and Mrs. Slay had spent the last two nights in Canyon while Slay is recuperating from an illness.

Directors to Act As City Advisors

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce has agreed to act as a planning commission for the City of Canyon, according to Mayor Charles Donnell.

A delegation from the board will meet tomorrow night in City Hall with the City Commission to discuss their duties.

Duties of the planning commission are to recommend a plan of development, to recommend plans for zoning to the zoning commission, to recommend plans for city beautification, and to act as an advisory board for the city commission, Mayor Donnell said.

Donnell believes the board of directors performs the same duties for the chamber as it would be doing for the city. Appointment of a different commission would "duplicate people" who are already planning the growth of Canyon.

Members of the board of directors are Dr. J. Manly Bryan, Jerry LaGrone, Clay Cooper, Raymond Raillard, Dr. W. J. Wooten, Joe Gidden, Bruce Blackaby, Marion Higdon, C. Boone McClure, Mrs. Clyde Warwick, J. D. Byrd, and Riley Troth.

Few Tickets Remain on Sale For C. of C. Annual Banquet

Only a few tickets remained on sale Tuesday for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet slated Friday at the West Texas State College cafeteria, Roland Black, C of C executive secretary, reported.

Black said that more than 300 tickets had been sold by early Tuesday and the chamber's directors had decided to leave only a few tickets on sale.

Principal speaker at the banquet will be Chester H. Lauck, an executive assistant with Continental Oil Company and better known as "Lum" of the famous "Lum and Abner" radio team.

Banquet Begins at 7:30 p. m.

The remaining tickets for the banquet, which features a menu headed by boneless breast of chicken, are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office at 1509 Fourth Avenue. The banquet begins at 7:30 p. m.

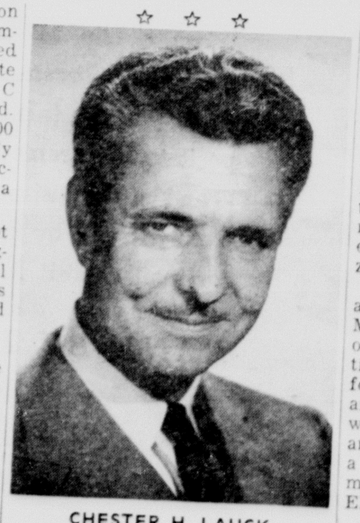

Cost of the tickets is $2.50 each.

Black said arrangements have been made with the caterer to serve fish to those who cannot eat meat on Friday.

Lauck and Norris Goff formed the team of Lum and Abner in Hot Springs, Ark., in 1931 and made the mythical Jot 'Em Down Store the best-known general store in the country. Lauck and Goff closed the store in 1954, agreeing never to open it again.

100,000 Miles Yearly

Since then, Lauck has traveled more than 100,000 miles a year delivering speeches throughout Conoco's 27-state marketing area. Constantly on the "speaker's circuit," he has talked at countless Chamber of Commerce dinners, business meetings, and state and national conventions since joining Conoco in 1955.

CHESTER H. LAUCK

And everywhere the response has been more than favorable to his humorous, thought-provoking talks.

Although known primarily as a radio and movie personality, Lauck was first successful as a banker and businessman.

Edited Humor Magazine

A native of Allene, Ark., he attended grade and high schools in Mena, Ark., and graduated from the University of Arkansas with a major in journalism, where he was editor of the school's humor magazine.

Following graduation he became associated with the Union Bank of Mena and later served as manager of the Citizen's Finance Corporation in that city. He was active for several years in the business and civic life of Mena, where he was president of the Lions Club and the Retail Credit Association, a director of the Chamber of Commerce, and Exalted Ruler of the Elk's Lodge.

Lauck and Goff, as Lum and Abner, are credited with a number of firsts in the entertainment world. They made the first major network broadcast in 1933 from Radio City in New York; the first marathon broadcast for charity (more than 12 hours); the initial show for the Mutual radio network; and the first international broadcast by a radio team, a show produced simultaneously in studios in London and Chicago and heard throughout the United States and Great Britain.

New Targets for Dimes

The theme selected for the new March of Dimes is a simple, direct statement: Prevent Crippling Diseases.

Yet it says a number of things not always apparent to the average American.

Most of us are barely conscious of the crippled child or adult. We see a boy dragging along a braced leg trying to keep up with his playmates. The little girl on crutches or the man in a wheel chair are usually taken for granted as an unchanging way of life. There are many more handicapped thousands we never see at all who are living out their lives in hospitals and institutions.

Crippling has many causes. The new March of Dimes, drawing on the vast medical research experience of its parent organization, The National Foundation, singles out three major fields of crippling diseases for a frontal attack.

These are birth defects, arthritis, and polio.

Here is the size of the problem:

Every year a quarter of a million infants—685 a day—are born with birth defects. At least half of them face a lifetime of serious chronic illness and disability.

Upwards of 11 million people in the United States alone are affected by arthritis and rheumatism. Apart from the physical pain, the economic loss to the nation tops $1.5 billion annually.

In polio, the National Foundation continues its aid to over 50,000 patients, most of them paralyzed in previous years.

The past year added many to the patient aid roster. The need for braces, crutches, and wheel chairs, to say nothing of iron lungs, rocking beds, and other respiratory aids, went on without respite.

This year when you join the new March of Dimes by giving your time and your money, you will be helping people toward a better life, protecting the nation against cripplers that may attack even you and your family.

The Easy Way Out?

Our county commissioners are presently considering a 10 percent salary increase for all county employees. This increase would boost salaries of approximately 52 employees whose current wages amount to about $170,000 annually. A 10 percent increase would take an additional $17,000 annually of taxpayers' money for county operations.

A study of all county employees and their salary levels is a major project involving considerable time and study. We seriously question whether the commissioners have viewed it as such. We wonder if the commission would not be wise to reach beyond themselves to an appointed public committee for help and advice on this matter. These salaries are a matter of public record and are available to every citizen.

We are afraid that the consideration of a 10 percent "across the board" increase by the commissioners is a means of taking the easy way out. We believe that salary increases by any public or private body should be on a merit basis. For the commissioners to approach the problem in any other way would seem to us to be a shirking of their responsibility to the taxpayers.

This newspaper must take exception with the idea of a "blanket" increase. As we have pointed out editorially in the past, we feel that a salary of $3,307 yearly for each commissioner is far too high for the time spent and work done by these men. In our opinion, to add 10 percent to this amount would be adding "insult to injury."

If the commissioners refuse to re-district to spread the work equitably, let them aportion salaries according to the load carried.

We are firm in our belief that fiscal responsibility and management of governmental affairs is best done at a local level. Our state and federal governments have become favorite "whipping boys" for all of us as we fight the frustrations of increasing government expense and control of our affairs. But, if we can't achieve sound principles at a local level how can we look forward to any result but fiscal and moral bankruptcy at a more distant level of government?

Let our commissioners set an example for all to see by first setting their own salaries at a level commensurate with the time and energy they employ in their work, and then let them proceed to evaluate each county employee's salary on the basis of merit alone. Let them also use as a guide the handling of the taxpayer's money as they would their own.

With these guiding principles before them we feel the 10 percent "easy way out" will be an impossibility.

What Our Neighbors Say . . .

Scissor Snippings

Ben Ezzell in The Canadian Record: February 1, by the way, is the last day on which candidates for office can file for a place on the primary election ballot under Texas' brand new election schedule . . . so if you're nursing political ambitions, you'll have to act quickly. The primary election this year will be on May 7.

Some politicians are already feeling a "draft" . . . Governor Price Daniel, for example, and Senator Grady Hazlewood . . . and a few others are developing cold feet from it. There's quite a scramble right now for position . . . and some early entries are changing races to find a spot where the competition looks easier. Among Texas' Old Pols, the big thing is to get elected . . . it doesn't matter so much to what.

"The draft" is a nebulous thing in Texas politics. Old politicians, long in office and wise in the ways of political trade winds, often detect it long before the voters feel a thing. It's a phantom breeze which whispers many things to many ears . . . and simple sweet nothings to some.

Governor Daniel, for example, felt a draft to come back for the third time to defend "his program" . . . and Senator Hazlewood, who says he had planned to retire, feels a draft to come back for the umpteenth time to defend his. Attorney General Will Wilson thought he felt a draft from the Governor's Mansion several months ago, but now it appears that it may have been just the cool pant of Prince Daniel and Our Will is about to feel drafted back to the attorney general's office to defend the Texas Tidelands again.

Even on the national scene, Texas politicians are alert for drafts. Lyndon Johnson, for example, has had a wet finger cocked to the political breeze for so long that he's apt to develop stiffness of the joints. Lyndon has been scooting around the country at a rate calculated to produce a draft if anything will . . . but this rapid movement, mind you, is not to be interpreted as "running."

And then there are some Texas politicians, like Old Ben Ramsey in the Lieutenant Governor's office, who aren't bothered by drafts or hurricanes but just go rolling along, term after term, content to hold a "minor" office and wield more power over the Legislature than governors and attorney generals can ever hope to.

Anyhow, the star performers are getting ready, and it promises to be a great show this summer and fall.

But remember . . . you can't get aboard the band wagon without a ticket, and the box office closes January 31. Better get your poll tax receipt now.

Bill Neal in the McLean News: Religion is a subject which I have always considered extremely personal, and consequently feel that the high-pressure salesmanship of mass religion in America today is in singularly bad taste.

While reformed and ministerialized ex-taxi drivers and Jake-leg mechanics with little or no formal education and not much self education have consistently badgered, cajoled and half dragged their offers of coffee, Green Stamps, and other incentives to becoming "saved," this column has not made mention of same for fear of likewise exhibiting bad taste.

On second thought, however, and at the calculated risk of being obnoxious, perhaps it is high time somebody mentioned the gross elements in organized religion.

By the grosser elements I am referring to the attitude on the part of some zealots who apparently feel that the entire list of sins—or at least the unpardonable ones—consists of irregular church attendance, penny-ante poker ante games, any joyful movement of the body which might be construed as dancing, the taste, smell or proximity of any form of alcohol (rubbing or otherwise), a game of snooker, or any other activity which might afford the participant some undue amount of gaiety.

These zealots are generally the ones who assist God by compiling sin lists of citizens attending social dances or otherwise falling short of the glory. And at the drop of a hat you can stir up a heated public argument with them on anything from Evolution to Original Sin.

Paul Crume in the Dallas Morning News: L. G. Cook made a trip to Lakehurst, N. J., during the holidays to visit his daughter and son-in-law.

He took so much guff about being from Texas that he decided he might as well peddle some. A woman at a drive-in grocery asked, "Is it true that everybody in Texas has a lot of oil?"

"No," said Cook soberly, "not all of us, but most of us do. My wells are not producing much at this time, what with the state controlling the production. But I'll tell you what, I have a well that is due to come in next week, and if you'll go back down to Texas and it comes in a gusher, I'll buy you a pink Cadillac to come home in."

"Oh boy!" said the woman enthusiastically, but the man with her looked a little sour.

"He's just kidding you," said the man.

"Yes, I am really kidding," admitted Cook. "She can have any color of Cadillac that she wants."

That, says Cook, is when the guy fell for the tale.

I GIVE YOU TEXAS

Writer Always Glad When Others Express Appreciation for Works

By BOYCE HOUSE

We should be freer in the expression of our appreciation of others.

Back in the 1920's when I was a visitor in Mineral Wells, an acquaintance called my attention to a tall man wearing a dark overcoat in a hotel lobby, with the remark, "He wrote 'The Slow Train through Arkansaw'."

Thomas W. Jackson! I remembered the name well, for as a small boy had I not read his book while actually traveling on a slow train in that very state? The jokes were new to me; and how I chuckled over them and re-told them.

My first impulse was to go over and tell him how much his books—for he wrote several others, including "Through Missouri on a Mule"—had entertained me; but I thought, "He wouldn't be interested in meeting me," so I didn't. Now, years and years later, having written some books myself, I know that a writer is always glad for anyone to tell him that his writings have given pleasure.

When I was a little boy, our family lived in Benton, Ark. Our physician was Dr. Gann. He wore a silk hat — maybe it was just once, on some special occasion, but the circumstance so impressed my young mind that his memory is always associated with a top hat. He officiated when my sister, Marion, was born. One time, however, when I needed his services, he was out of town, so another doctor was summoned. I had fallen out of a small wagon and had cut my chin on the stump of a sapling in our yard. The wound left a scar and I remarked, "There wouldn't have been one if Dr. Gann could have been here."

Nearly 25 years later, I re-visited Benton on business and, having a little time before my train arrived, I inquired about Dr. Gann. He was still living but had retired. Learning the location of his home, I thought I'd pay him a visit. There were several persons sitting in the yard, back from the sidewalk, and, even in the gathering dusk and without his silk hat, I recognized the elderly physician. Then came the thought, "He doesn't remember me and he won't want to be bothered," and so I walked on. Not many years ago, in driving through Benton, I saw, near the cemetery fence, the monument at his grave.

Being older now myself, I realize he would have been glad for a former patient to have greeted him and by that act to show that a once-little boy still remembered him as a faithful physician.

We should be freer in the expression of our appreciation of others.

Tax Rules Given For Farm Labor

Farmer and rancher-employers with one or more employees are being asked two questions by H. B. Hamill, administrative officer of Internal Revenue Service in Amarillo.

Have you paid an employee $150 or more in cash wages during 1959, or has the employee performed agricultural labor for you on 20 or more days during 1959 for cash wages figured on a time basis?

If your employees meet either of these two tests you must withhold social security tax from the cash wages paid to these employees at the rate of two and one-half percent of such cash wages.

This two and one-half percent, together with another two and one-half percent representing your share as the employer, must be sent to the IRS district director in Dallas.

Hamill says that farmers and ranchers subject to this tax are required to file a return, Form 943, with their district director of Internal Revenue before January 31 of the year following the year covered by the return.

IRS recommends Circular A for non-technical explanation of Uncle Sam's tax rules for withholding of social security from farm employees' wages. It's available free at the Internal Revenue's office, 1414 West 8th St., Amarillo.

Washington Report

The Last Soldier

By Representative Walter Rogers
18th Congressional District

All of us have observed with reverence the recent passing of General Walter Williams, the last surviving member of the armed forces who fought on either side in the War Between the States—almost 100 years ago.

As flags were lowered to half-mast all over the United States, many persons respectfully paused to reflect on many events. Among many other recollections, it brought to mind my college days when I worked at the Confederate Pension Office in Austin while attending the University of Texas Law School.

While I was working there in 1932, General Williams' Confederate pension was granted. None of us could forecast at that time, of course, that he would be the last of that noble group to survive. Confederate pensions were paid by the states and not by the federal government.

Prepare for Observance

In an earlier newsletter I noted the preparations for commemorative observance of the Civil War Centennial. The 85th Congress established a National Civil War Centennial Commission to prepare for the observance during the years 1961-1965.

This period of great strife should invoke in all of us reflections of our heritage, and it is hoped that in the Centennial observance every corner of America will focus attention on the principles laid down a century ago and, having done so, look to the future with democratic ideals more profoundly avowed than ever before.

The Civil War Centennial Commission has recently published some facts about the war which, although they are matters of record, are not generally known and which I thought you might find interesting.

'Firsts' of Civil War

This was the FIRST war in which:

Railroads were extensively used for the rapid movement of military supplies and of large bodies of troops from one theatre of operation to another.

Aerial reconnaissance was first effectively used from anchored balloons in military operations.

A multi-manned submarine sank a surface vessel.

Medical care of the wounded was systematically organized.

Participants, sites and equipment were photographed on a large scale.

A practical machine gun was developed.

Voting by soldiers and sailors in service was provided by national laws.

Large-scale coverage was carried on by recognized news correspondents at the front.

The repeating rifle was used by large troop units.

The Medal of Honor was awarded.

Southerners Outnumbered

According to the U. S. Census, the population of the United States in 1860 was 31,443,321 persons. Of these, approximately 23,000,000 were in the 22 northern states and 9,000,000 in the 11 southern states. Of the latter total, 3,500,000 were slaves.

The total war dead from both armies was about 500,000. The chance of surviving a wound in Civil War days was 7 to 1 as compared to 50 to 1 in the Korean War. About 15 percent of the wounded died in the Civil War; about 8 percent in World War I; about 4 percent in World War II; and about 2 percent in the Korean War.

President Lincoln had four brothers-in-law who served in the Confederate Army. Jefferson Davis graduated 23rd in his class at West Point. He served in the U.S. House of Representatives and the U. S. Senate, was a colonel in the Mexican War and served as Secretary of War in President Pierce's Cabinet from 1853-1857. Of the original 26 members of the Confederate Senate, 14 were former U. S. Congressmen.

Graduates of the 'Point'

General George McClellan, "Stonewall" Jackson, and General George Pickett were graduated from the same class at West Point. Pickett received his appointment to the academy through John Todd Stuart, Lincoln's law partner.

Three of Henry Clay's grandsons were in the Union Army, while four joined the Confederate Army.

The estimated cost of the War was $6,190,000,000 to the Union and $3,000,000,000 to the Confederacy. The value of the Confederate dollar in gold dropped from 90 cents in 1861 to 6 cents in 1864. Most Confederate dollar bills are worth more today than they were in 1865.

Jarnagin Selling Life Insurance

Clark Jarnagin, former head football coach at West Texas State College, has completed Southland Life Insurance Company's training program and is now selling life insurance, it was announced this week.

Jarnagin's office is at 1516 Fifth Avenue, where he is associated with Hosea Foster, insurance agent.

Henry J. Smith, agency manager for Southland, said, "We want you to know of the high regard in which Clark is held by the management of the Southland Life Insurance Company. We are proud to recommend him as our representative, and we know that his many friends join with us in wishing him an ever-increasing success in his new association."

Jarnagin was born at Graham, graduated from Hardin-Simmons University, and has been in the coaching and teaching profession for the past 22 years, except for three years in the Navy and four years in private business in Canyon.

He, his wife, and four children reside at 1810 Third Avenue in Canyon.

P-TA Will Sell Savings Stamps

The Canyon P-TA will sell United States Savings Stamps at the Canyon Elementary School every Tuesday from 8 until 8:45 a. m. beginning February 2.

Stamps will be sold in denominations of 10 and 25 cents. Filled books may be redeemed at the First National Bank for bonds.

There's nothing like a new car—and no new car like a Chevrolet. This is the Impala Sport Coupe!

GO '60 GO CHEVY!

NOW—THE CAR THAT STARTS THE SIXTIES
WITH SO MUCH THAT'S NEW,
SO MUCH THAT'S DIFFERENT
...AND SETS THE PACE WITH LOWER PRICES!

Chevrolet speaks of the Sixties like no other car—with a broad accent on spaciousness, stirring new concepts in styling and strong emphasis on spirit and thrift.

Step inside this superlative '60 and look at the worlds of room around you: head room, hip room, shoulder-squaring room. Note how Chevrolet's engineers have further flattened and narrowed the transmission tunnel to give the middle man more foot room. Chevrolet's greater roominess is inside where you want it—not outside in useless body overhang.

You'll find economy teamed with performance in a new standard V8, engineered to deliver up to 10% more miles for every gallon, or the strapping Hi-Thrift 6.

And riding comfort in the new one is a never-ending treat, thanks to Full Coil spring suspension. There are also thicker, newly designed body mounts that filter noise and vibration to the vanishing point, more rigid frame and many other engineering advances.

But you'll have to drive the Sixty sizzler yourself—that's the clincher.

Why not see your Chevrolet dealer now—for a drive and the happy details on Chevy's new lower prices.

HOMEOWNER TAX FACTS

Every $5 Deduction Found Adds Another Dollar to Your Pocket

(This is one in a series of articles on federal income tax filing. These articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

Your home and car may be the source of deduction that will lower your federal income tax.

It is important to check all possible deductions because of the savings involved. If you are in the lowest tax bracket—20 percent—each $5 you can find in deductions will mean a dollar in your pocket. For persons of higher income the possible savings are even greater.

The interest on a mortgage is deductible on your federal tax return. In most cases, payments to a bank include both interest and principal; as the mortgage is reduced the interest is less, and a larger portion is applied to the principal. Only the amount you pay as interest is deductible in the case of your residence.

Real Estate Taxes

Sometimes the monthly payment also includes an additional amount which the bank holds for the payment of taxes, insurance, and so on.

In this case, the bank is acting as your agent in paying tax on your property. Real estate taxes paid for you by the bank are deductible as if you had paid them directly.

The important point here is that you can only deduct the amount paid by the bank. For example, you may give the bank $360 over the year toward the payment of taxes, but the tax bill may only come to $341. In this situation you can only deduct $341.

Deductible Auto Expenses

From the time you buy an automobile, you begin to have other expenses which are deductible on your federal income tax return.

Any state or local sales tax you paid on the car purchase is deductible. So are the cost of your license plates and interest on an auto loan.

A common deduction in many taxpayers' returns is for state gasoline tax. It is best to keep a record of your gasoline purchases during the year, but if you don't have such a record you can still make a reasonable estimate.

Estimate Gallons Consumed

For example, you may divide the average number of miles your car runs on a gallon of gasoline into the total miles you have put on the car over the year. This will give you an estimate of the number of gallons consumed. Multiply this by the tax per gallon, and you have a reasonable estimate of the amount you can deduct.

If you had a collision, you may be able to deduct the damage to your own car not covered by insurance. Although your driving may have been faulty, you are entitled to the deduction if the accident was not due to your willful negligence.

Such a loss is determined by subtracting the value of the car after the accident from the value before the accident.

Roof Over Dependents

To determine whether or not you contribute more than half of the support for a dependent (one of the tests for claiming an exemption for a dependent), you must consider the value of the roof over the dependent's head.

For example, if you provide a room in your house for your mother-in-law, you can consider the rental value of the room as part of your support contribution. This is the amount you could get for the room if you were renting it rather than allowing your mother-in-law to use it free.

If your mother-in-law lives in her own home, the situation may be quite the reverse. To determine the percentage of her support provided by you, you must consider the rental value of the one in which she lives.

Consider Rental Value

The amount she could have rented the home for is considered a contribution toward her own support. For example, suppose your mother-in-law has an income of $500 a year. The rental value of her home, even though she has no intention of renting it, is estimated at $1,500 a year.

For tax purposes then, your mother-in-law is said to be contributing $2,000 to her own support for the year. To list your mother-in-law as a dependent, you must have contributed more than $2,000 to her support.

Additional Information

The instruction booklet you received with your tax form gives further information of federal income tax filing.

Help also is available by telephoning or by visiting the offices of the Internal Revenue Service.

Catholic Church Names Rev. Erpen As New Director

The Chancery office of the Catholic Diocese of Amarillo has announced the appointment of Rev. B. A. Erpen of Happy as Diocesen Director of Rural Life.

Father Erpen replaces Rev. Matthew Schafle of Borger, who has been named Diocesan Director of Social Action.

Bishop John L. Morkovsky of Amarillo said rural life has been a special concern of the Catholic Church for many years. The rural life division is a regular part of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, the joint office of the bishops of the nation.

At present, Father Erpen is directing plans for three rural life institutes at which the principles of Catholic rural life will be outlined to the clergy and laity. The institutes will be held at Groom, Slaton, and Rowena on February 2, 3, and 4, and will feature speakers of the National Catholic Rural Life Conference.

Women are born gamblers. If they weren't, they'd never . . .

Answer the front doorbell wearing a dirty apron and with frowzy hair; then an old beau, or the preacher, wouldn' catch them looking like that.

Take the spouse to the office or ride downtown with him to mail a letter, wearing a green tweed coat thrown over a torn blue dressing gown, striped socks and house-shoes, a red scarf tied over rolled up hair; then when another car sideswipes theirs, or their own car gives out of gas, they wouldn't look to the cops like escapees from a booby hatch instead of damsels in distress.

Go out for the afternoon leaving dirty dishes in the kitchen, because if they do that's the day Mrs. Bank President brings by a fresh pound cake and sets it near the kitchen sink.

Plan to read an engrossing novel until they see the car turn in the drive, then jump up and dash to the kitchen to start supper before the spouse gets to the back door, that's the day he'll drive in from the other direction.

Tell any woman friend in the world a real hush-hush secret, such as that runaway marriage that was annulled; because 10 years from now she may not be speaking and that will be the one thing she remembers that seems worth repeating about her former chum.

Yes, women are born gamblers. But no spouse can complain. Because if his little wife hadn't been a gambler, would she have taken a chance on him?

Billie Miller Receives High Score On Annual Betty Crocker Test

Billie Miller received the highest score in a 50-minute written examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes taken by graduating senior girls. She will receive an award pin, manufactured by Jostens and representing the slogan, "Home is where the heart is." Her examination paper will be submitted for competition with other high school winners to name the state Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Billie, a senior, in addition to winning the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow test in our school, has won many scholastic awards. Among these are the sophomore English award, freshman home economics award, and the math award her freshman year. She is a member of FTA, FHA, and Choir Club. During her high school years, she has been a member of girls' basketball team and the Science Club. Billie was also a member of the senior play cast.

The test, which was prepared and judged by Science Research Associates of Chicago, was taken by a record number of 379,018 girls in 12,597 schools, an increase of 29,868 girls and 337 schools over last year.

Each state Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a $1,500 scholarship and an educational trip April 23-29 with her school advisor. The tour will include New York City and Colonial Williamsburg, and will culminate with the American Table Banquet in Washington, D. C., on April 28, at the Statler-Hilton Hotel where the All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be announced. The runner-up in each state will receive a $500 scholarship; the school of each state winner will be given a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The scholarship of the All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be increased to $5,000. The second, third, and fourth ranking Homemakers of Tomorrow in the nation will receive $4,000, $3,000, and $2,000 scholarships, respectively.

Total enrollment in the six-year-old $110,000 scholarship program sponsored by General Mills has neared the two million mark. Alaska and Hawaii are participating for the first time this year.

Driver Education Is Essay Subject

The Canyon Junior Woman's Book Club is sponsoring an essay contest for junior and senior high school students. The subject is "Does Driver Education Make Better Drivers?"

A $5 prize for the best essay in junior high school and a $5 prize for the best essay in senior high school will be awarded. The essay is to consist of not less than 200 nor more than 300 words, as stated by Mr. James E. Miller, principal. Mr. Miller also stated that the regular form used in writing themes in English class should be followed, and all essay papers must be in the principal's office on or before Friday, January 29, or they will not be considered.

Each student submitting an essay must be willing to release the essay to the Junior Woman's Book Club to use as it sees fit.

Student Teacher Topic of P-TA

The new Student Teacher Program was the topic of discussion at last Thursday's P-TA meeting in the elementary school.

Dr. Emmitt Smith led the discussion. Mrs. Cecil Simms, high school English teacher, and Miss Ruth Massey, student teacher, also served on the panel. Mrs. Simms discussed the role of the cooperating teacher, and Miss Massey the role of the student teacher.

Dr. Smith also discussed the pilot schools program. Each of the six pilot schools in Texas has a unit of student teachers. Canyon, which is one of the pilot schools, has a unit consisting of Mrs. Simms with Miss Massey, Mrs. Dan Sanders with Mrs. Wanda Van Valkenburg, Miss Mary Carter with Mrs. Dorothy Gill, and Mrs. T. E. Beard with Miss Jo Ann Ryann.

Music was arranged by Mrs. H. R. Fulton, Jr., and Don Olson presented the devotional.

All parents, FTA members, and local club members wishing to sponsor a foreign exchange student are cordially invited to attend. The meeting will be held in the Canyon High School auditorium at 7:30 p. m.

Pat's Be Prepared For ISL Meet Patter

CHS is proud to say "Thank you" again for a fine performance to the cast of the senior play. "The Night of January 16" was presented Friday at the Randall County Court House for the March of Dimes. Mrs. Margaret Foster directed the play.

☆

Interscholastic League competition in all phases of school time activities is just around the corner. Literary events, such as debate, poetry reading, declamations, and extemporaneous speaking are being studied. Students are practicing in typing, bookkeeping, shorthand, and ready writing. Sports also play an important part in the competition, and our coaches are looking for championship teams. Good luck, everyone, and be prepared!

☆

Congratulations go to Miss Billie Miller who won the Betty Crocker Award from Canyon High School. Billie is now eligible for placement in the state contest.

☆

The students of CHS have heaved a big sigh of relief because semester examinations are over. It hardly seems possible that our school year is half gone. The school had a very successful first semester, especially during football season when our team won the district championship. We can be proud of our past record, but we hope everyone has decided to do even better in 1960.

☆

Tragedy came close to the halls of CHS when seven of our classmates were involved in an automobile accident recently. Everyone at CHS says a big "Get Well Soon" to Terry Milligan, who is in the hospital as a result of the collision.

☆

Tryouts for the junior play had to be postponed last week because Mrs. Lee Foster, who will direct the play, was ill.

☆

If you go around growling at people, they'll be glad to see you go to the dogs.

Increased Popularity of Languages Evidenced by Number of Courses

An increased popularity of foreign languages in our school is evidenced by the number of courses and by the size of the classes. Mrs. A. K. Knott is teaching two classes of Spanish I, and for the first time one class of French, also with Mrs. Knott instructing, is being taught.

Have you ever realized the bearing foreign languages have upon our everyday English? We speak of "cafeterias," "remudas," "chiffon," "perfume," "casino," "camouflage," "verbs," guitars," "spaghetti," and numerous other things, each of which has foreign origin. It seems that one understands English better than he knows a little of its background.

Whether or not you know a foreign language may have influence upon your future jobs, or may determine whether a leading college or university will accept you as a student. This knowledge affects you as an individual, and it affects your English.

One obvious job that requires a foreign language is being an interpreter. Of course, you will have to be working with languages you know. Then, many colleges and universities call for years of a foreign language from high school. The effectiveness of a foreign language upon an individual and upon his English depends upon his ability to know and understand the fundamentals of both languages he is using.

Mrs. Knott stated that more facilities for teaching, as better phonographs, different language speaking records, would be helpful. She also said that if she had smaller classes she could be more thorough.

Spanish and French classes of CHS the students carry on conversations with a friend or friends while their words are taken on a tape recorder. Later the conversations are played back.

This may sound like all play and no work, but actually it is one of the basic points in learning to speak a different language. The students then realize where their need of improvement lies.

Mrs. Knott uses the tape recorder and a phonograph with the different language records. She gives conversations to the students to be learned and delivered to the class. These are some of the activities that make up her classes. The students are encouraged to speak the language they study.

The basic points of learning a language are to be ready and willing to learn it, and keep up with it, use it, speak, read, and memorize it.

The languages offered in CHS are French and Spanish. Each course offers one credit.

Mr. Cristy Is CHS Visitor

Mr. George Cristy, former CHS business manager, visited here January 20. He came with his wife, who was finishing her semester's work at WTSC.

He said that he is enjoying his work in Seminole, but that he misses his Canyon friends. He believes he has fully recovered from the appendicitis operation he underwent just before the Christmas holidays.

"I was glad to visit back in CHS. We miss all of the fine teachers and students of CHS and hope we will always be welcome here. Sorry I couldn't see all of you. Best wishes from the Cristy family," Mr. Cristy said.

Mrs. Bill Lee is sponsor of the club.

Canyon VIP's

JUDY BOURLAND

Judy Bourland, a petite blonde haired, blue eyed, president of the freshman class, has been selected VIP of this week.

Judy lists Italian food as her favorite dish, her favorite color as lavender, and her favorite record as "Little Sister." Judy's favorite person is her mother, Mrs. John Bourland. People who are always late are Judy's pet peeve.

As president of the freshman class and secretary of her homemaking group and an active FTA member, Judy has many duties to round out her first year. In junior high school she was a member of the student council, president of her seventh grade class, and secretary of the eighth grade FHA.

Judy, born October 20, 1944, lives with her parents, her older brother, Ronald, and her little sister, Marilyn Kay, on Western Avenue.

HONOR STUDENTS INDUCT HEREFORD SOCIETY OFFICERS

Six members of Canyon's National Honor Society went to Hereford last Thursday to present the induction ceremony for the Hereford National Honor Society.

The CHS students participating in this event were Chuck Nester, Judy Taylor, Mary Bess Brillhart, Linda Green, Wilma Burkett, Bill Cornette, and Robert Blythe. Miss Claudia Neelley accompanied the students.

Wilma Burkett Chosen by FFA As Sweetheart

Wilma Burkett was elected Sweetheart of the Canyon FFA Chapter at the January 18 meeting.

This year Wilma also is a twirler, member of the National Honor Society, and a member of the CHS girls' basketball team. Last year she was crowned as Homecoming Queen.

The Amarillo Fat Stock Show also was discussed at the meeting. Billy Martin, president, was in charge of the meeting.

Cookies and Cokes were served following the meeting to 25 members.

Modern Science Assembly Slated

The Southern School Assembly program will present to Canyon High School students and faculty members a Modern Science assembly, billed as "Spectacular Scientific Entertainment," February 2 at 1:15 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

Such displays as a Telsa coil producing a million volts of visual electricity, neon tubes illuminated without wiring or electrical contact, an electro-magnet with over 500 pounds of force, dancing rings suspended in space, a house wiring demonstration, and a large Jacob's Ladder showing a spectacular display of electricity in visual action plus others will be a part of the program.

TSTA District IX Beginning Project On School Service

A committee of the Texas State Teachers Association of District IX met at Borger, January 15. The purpose of the meeting was to begin work on a project of improving school services. This includes all public schools and colleges in this area.

Questionnaires will be sent to all schools in District IX. The information requested will include a summary report of improvement during the past year and the projected improvements in the near future, according to Mr. J. E. Miller, principal, who attended the meeting.

All of the information is to be reported to the House of Delegates of TSTA this coming March 11 at the annual conference.

CHS BAND HAS TENPIN PARTY

The tenpins fell under the onslaught of the Canyon High School band at a bowling party held January 16 at 6 p. m. at the Canyon Bowl, where several alleys were reserved.

Approximately 25 band members braved the snow to attend the party. Parents of several band members also attended along with Mr. Herman Demus, band director, and his wife. These parents were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd T. Kiser, Rev. and Mrs. Carl E. Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. Crawford Kiker, Mr. and Mrs. W. Higdon, and Mrs. D. C. Gazzaway.

After refreshments were served in the high school cafeteria, band members danced until 9:45 p. m. Students stated they had a wonderful time.

Mrs. Margaret Harper Authors Music Dictionary for Youngster

Mrs. Margaret Harper, a music teacher in our school system, is the author of an intriguing and educational music dictionary titled "Meet Some Musical Terms." Mrs. Mary Caballero, wife of Dr. Emilio Caballero, head of the art department at West Texas State College, is the illustrator.

The dictionary demonstrates the keys, foreign words, chords, instruments and many musical terms from "A" to " ." Mrs. Caballero does wonders in drawing pictures which help explain and relate the terms. Many foreign musical terms which have English relatives are demonstrated, and the origin of the term is explained.

In the introduction the author and the artist discuss this relation. They say, "On the highways of music, most of the road signs are in foreign languages, chiefly Italian, because the first music printing was done in Italy. It will help you to understand that words, like people, are related to each other. Many foreign words have English relatives. Tie the two together and you will remember them more easily."

The book is written and illustrated for young people in their first three years of music so that they may understand and enjoy learning musical terms. For example, all musical instruments are pictures with players of some kind. "Legato," which means "smooth flowing music," is pictured with a butterfly playing on the piano keys.

The book is on sale for $1 at the WT Book Store and in most music and book stores in Amarillo, Mrs. Harper said.

Librarians Select State Delegates

The Loula Grace Erdman Library Club met January 19. One purpose was to select delegates to attend the state library meeting. Delegates chosen were Sarah Ragle, Clark de Schweinitz, Barbara Whiteley, Pat Haley, and Helen Guthrie.

These delegates were selected on the basis of qualifications to hold office.

The members discussed other club business and answered roll call with quotations.

Canyon Teachers Begin Reports For Texas Curriculum Studies

On January 20 all Canyon public schools were dismissed at 2:15 p.m. in order that teachers might meet to begin the job of preparing reports on Texas Curriculum Studies.

The report will include all subjects taught in Texas schools and must be sent to the Texas Education Agency by March 1, Mr. Joe A. Gibson, superintendent, stated. From these reports and those of all schools in Texas, the agency will develop standards of content and methods of presentation that will be used by all Texas schools.

Other things to be determined as a result of recommendations in the reports are such items as how many years of laboratory science, English, and mathematics will be required for graduation from high school.

This curriculum study has been in progress for more than a year, and teachers and administrators will have further general meetings and committee meetings this year in order to finish their work before the deadline.

Committees and chairmen are: Educational guidance, Mr. J. E. Miller; English-language arts, Mrs. Cecil Simms and Mrs. Irene Ball; mathematics, Mr. Ray Wells; science, Mr. Rex Reeves; social studies, Mr. Lawrence Brotherton; art, Miss Claudia Neelley; music, Mr. Herman Demus.

Health and physical education, Mr. Bill Davis; standards for physical education, Miss Alice Brotherton; foreign language, Mrs. A. K. Knott; business education, Mrs. Betty Brown; driver education, Mr. Ray Wells; industrial arts, Mr. Sidney Burgess; vocational agriculture, Mr. Ed Dwyer; homemaking education, Mrs. Clara B. Long, distributive education (not covered).

School Officials Attend Meetings

School officials had a busy weekend attending various meetings in Amarillo and Dumas.

Mr. Joe A. Gibson, superintendent, and Mr. Rex Reeves, elementary school principal, were in Amarillo Thursday for the TASA Study Group meeting.

This group heard panels discuss content and methods of presentation of mathematics and science courses in relation to the Texas Curriculum Study Survey of the Texas Education Agency.

Saturday Mr. Gibson, Mr. Reeves, Mr. J. E. Miller, principal of Canyon High School, and Mr. L. H. Brotherton, principal of Junior High School, were in Dumas for a regular meeting of the Panhandle Administrators Association.

Dr. Morris Wallace, head of the Department of Education in Texas Tech, was consultant for this meeting. Seventeen different curriculum committee reports were heard by the group.

FTA Club Views Educational Film

The D. A. Shirley FTA Club met in the CHS cafeteria January 18 where they viewed an educational film, "See How They Learn." Linda Green was projectionist.

Bill Callarman, president, presided over the meeting. Virginia Crounse, secretary, read a proposed amendment to the state FTA constitution, the minutes, and also called the roll.

State delegates to the state FTA convention in Denton on February 19-20 were discussed and money was appropriated for expenses.

Refreshments were served following the meeting. Host and hostesses were John Wear, Frances Kiker, Lynne Larson, and Lois Harlan.

Senior Cast Does Benefit Play

The senior play, "The Night of January 16," was presented Friday at the Randall County courthouse to raise money for the March of Dimes.

Only one change was made in the original cast, and that was in the role of defense attorney. The part was played by Johnny Raymond, student speech teacher under Mrs. Lee Foster. Howard Mundy played the part originally but was not able to cast Friday.

Other leading characters were Carole Jones, Bill Cornette, Judy Parsons, and Ronnie Hughes.

The production was directed by Mrs. Lee Foster and was originally presented in December in the high school auditorium.

Students Attend 'Country Girl'

After much confusion, a foursome consisting of Mrs. Lee Foster, Carole Jones, Ted and Pat Abbott attended the rehearsal of the production of "Country Girl" at the Amarillo Little Theatre January 12.

The play, under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Moore, had several West Texas State students in its cast.

Floors Register Their Complaint

Oh, we poor floors! Do you know the trouble those "bombs" and "crackers" cause us? Some students in CHS just don't realize the indignity they put upon us. The "bombs" cause people to run over us in panic. That really scuffs us up, hurts our feelings and gives the janitors such a lot of work to do.

The disgrace of all these things falls upon the school, and we floors know that CHS should not be treated in this manner.

What are you students of Canyon High School going to do about our misery? Something has to be done or else we shall be worn out.

Can't you help us poor misused floors?

Senior Boys Hear Vocational Talk

The boys in the senior class met in a special assembly January 19 to learn of a new vocational program the Rotary Club is introducing to boys who will be graduating in the spring.

The program being set up is one designed to provide an interview for the boys with a businessman in the field that the student plans to study after he graduates. The interview will be some time in the spring.

Mr. Raymond Raillard, representing the Rotary Club, outlined the program and answered questions. Mr. J. E. Miller, high school principal, gave a talk outlining the problems and responsibilities that the boys will encounter and the reason career selections should be made carefully.

BOYS' QUARTET TO SING AT BAPTIST CHURCH BANQUET

A quartet will sing for a Baptist Church banquet February 11, in the basement of the First Baptist Church.

Members of the quartet include Jimmy Killingsworth, Ronnie Harris, John Wear, and Neal Lemons. Don Guill will be piano accompanist.

The program will consist of a variety of numbers, including "Moments to Remember," "The Wreck of the Sloop John B.," "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," "Cry Baby," and others.

The quartet members said they deeply appreciated the time their sponsor, Mrs. Dan Sanders, has spent with them in rehearsal.

The secret of getting things done is to do a little at a time.

Red Parker's 1,072-pound Hereford steer walked off with grand champion honors Saturday in the 13th annual Randall County Junior Livestock Show and Sale—the largest in the history of the event.

Conservation Board Reports On '59 Progress in District

Following is the fifth annual report of the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District No. 147 for the calendar year 1959. The report is signed by J. W. Spencer, chairman of the board of supervisors for the district.

The program and plan for the district was completed and returned to the local board in June, 1956.

The technical services of the Soil Conservation Service were made available at that time. The board started taking cooperators in June, 1956, and has continued since that time.

The board meets in the Randall County courthouse the first Tuesday of each month at 7 p. m. Time of the meetings changes during the year, depending on the season.

Got Certificate in 1954

The certificate of organization was received on November 25, 1954.

Supervisors of this district are J. W. Spencer, chairman, subdivision No. 3; C. V. Conatser, vice chairman, subdivision No. 5; R. C. Sampson, Jr., secretary, subdivision No. 1; Frank Begert, member, subdivision No. 2, and Marshall Rockwell, Jr., member, subdivision No. 4.

All board members have served on the board since the district was organized. The board has held 12 regular meetings this year, with an average attendance of approximately 82 percent, and five called meetings.

This district does not publish a newsletter, but the local paper carries a weekly news column. There were 45 articles published by the paper this year. The Canyon News also published the district's 1958 annual report. The board joined with the local ASC committee in a tour to observe Soil Bank Conservation Reserve grass plantings.

Toured Soil Bank Land

The board of supervisors were consulted and attended a tour sponsored by the local ASC when Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Marvin McClain observed the use of Soil Bank land. Supervisor Conatser's farm was visited on this tour.

There are around 860 land owners in the district with about 546,460 acres of agricultural land and a total of 606,760 acres. At the present time we have 210 district cooperators with 154,120 acres of land under agreement. This year the district obtained 42 agreements.

Supervisors have assisted in the preparation of the ACP program, the Great Plains Program, and the conservation-needs inventory for this district.

The district helped promote sale of the U. S. postage conservation stamp, and 10,000 stamps ordered by the Canyon post office were sold before the end of the year.

Deanna Stocker Wins

The Fort Worth Press essay contest was entered by the Umbarger school, and Deanna Stocker won tenth place in the contest. The First National Bank of Canyon gave her a cash prize. Local schools have been furnished material to use in the 1960 contest.

A tour of local ministers was conducted by the board to acquaint the ministers with conservation. Local churches observed Soil Stewardship Sunday and approximately 2,500 people attended these services.

All five board members and their families attended a social and barbecue at Buffalo Lake during the summer. Also present were invited guests from SCS, ASC, Extension Service, the game warden, and their families.

During the year cooperators of this district have completed the following practices on their farms:

213 Farms Use ACP

The local ASC county committee reports that during the 1959 program year about $90,825.17 of ACP cost sharing was used on 213 farms in the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District to help solve particular problems by establishing needed conservation practices.

Cost shares were offered and received on the following practices: permanent cover for soil protection or land use adjustment, improvement of an established vegetative cover, improvement of an established vegetative cover on range land by deferred grazing, controling competitive shrubs, furrowing and chiseling noncrop grazing land, constructing dams, pits or ponds for livestock water, constructing diversion terraces to intercept runoff, reorganizing farm irrigation systems to conserve water and prevent erosion, stubble mulching to improve soil permeability, listing and chiseling for wind erosion control, control of bindweed, and initial subsoiling of cropland.

Conservation Practices

The Potter County ASC committee reports that approximately $8,821.08 of ACP cost sharing was used on 26 farms in the Randall-Potter Soil Conservation District to help solve particular problems by establishing needed conservation practices.

These practices included bindweed control, stubble mulching, reorganizing farm irrigation systems, chiseling noncrop grazing land, chiseling or pit cultivation for wind erosion control.

The district wishes to express thanks to both Randall and Potter County ASC offices for their fine work in conservation during the past year. Soil Conservation District No. 147 has equipment to rent to district cooperators and others to do a more efficient conservation job. This equipment consists of one 12-foot land leveler, two 10-foot grass drills, one 2-yard wheel scraper, one inter-row legume seeder, two sprayers—one equipped to control weeds and one for insect spraying, one Easyflow 13-foot fertilizer applicator, two 15-foot shredder mowers, and one 5-foot shredder mower.

Still Have Problems

There is no watershed or flood prevention work in the district.

The district is still faced with the problems of management of irrigation water, terrace construction on dry land, and wind erosion. The people need to have a better understanding of soil conservation districts and their purposes.

The district received normal rainfall again this year, with approximately five inches falling in December, 1959.

The board is assisting in the Great Plains Conservation Program and thus far have 17 contracts in operation in the district. The Great Plains Conservation Program appears very effective where properly applied.

The board has received excellent cooperation from all agencies in the district.

Weekend Gospel Campaign Slated

A weekend gospel campaign, to be conducted by Rev. Jack White of Wichita Falls, has been scheduled by the Canyon Assembly of God Church.

Services on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, beginning at 7:45 p. m., will emphasize an evangelistic theme.

Rev. White, who prepared for the ministry at Howard Payne College and Southwestern Theological Seminary, has behind him intensive revival campaign experience, besides pastoring work for the Baptist denomination. The 26-year-old Bible enthusiast has also been an all-round school athlete, was president of his Howard Payne student body organization, and won listing in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" in 1955 for outstanding scholastic achievement.

Pastor A. J. Pettit extends a cordial invitation to everyone to attend all services of this brief campaign. "The zealous preaching and enthusiastic spirit of this young evangelist will inspire and encourage the faith of all," Rev. Pettit said.
